

Product Training Workshops

Get hands-on with Forecast Pro!

Forecast Pro product training workshops are an excellent opportunity for new users looking to get a quick start, long-time users looking to sharpen their skills and even those who are just considering Forecast Pro. Manuals and tutorials are great, but nothing substitutes for hands-on training with experienced instructors who can answer all of your questions as they arise.

You will be provided with a computer loaded with Forecast Pro and guided hands-on through numerous forecasting problems while exploring all aspects of the software using real business data. With this enhanced understanding of the product, you will return to work armed with the skills and knowledge to get the most from Forecast Pro.

Great instruction.”*

James Hicks
